A spell of windy weather is expected on Friday associated with Storm Callum.

What to expect

- Some delays to road, rail, air and ferry transport are likely
- Delays for high-sided vehicles on exposed routes and bridges likely
- Some short term loss of power and other services is possible
- It's likely that some coastal routes, sea fronts and coastal communities affected by spray and/or large waves

Further details

Gusts of 50 mph are likely with potential for gusts of 60 mph around exposed coasts and hills. High tides are also near their peak, heightening the risk of coastal impacts due to large waves.

Strong winds are expected to arrive across Northern Ireland, southwest England and west Wales during Thursday night, spreading to Scotland by Friday morning. Through the day winds are likely to ease across parts of Northern Ireland and southwest Scotland. Elsewhere after a brief lull, winds are expected to strengthen again during the afternoon.
